POLICY:

Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital Network (“NRHN”) has established a standard of respect within the hospital network community. The hospital network expects people to treat each other with respect and will take action to prevent or eliminate behavior that disrupts the operation of the hospital network or affects the ability of individuals to perform their responsibilities with self-respect, creates a hostile work environment, impedes individuals from carrying out responsibilities in a professional manner, interferes with patient safety or quality of care, including failing to adequately address safety concerns.

It is the policy of NRHN that all individuals within any of its facilities or performing services on its behalf be treated courteously, respectfully and with dignity. To this end, NRHN expects and requires that all individuals – employees, physicians, students, independent contractors, vendors, Governing Board – conduct themselves in a respectful and cooperative manner towards each other. Any conflict will be addressed and resolved according to the established hospital procedures. This policy is not intended to inhibit legitimate constructive discussion and feedback.

PROCEDURE:

1. NRHN has a Service Pledge which all employees are oriented to at NEO. All employees are expected to follow, abide by and exhibit the seven standards of behavior outlined in the Service Pledge. The seven standards include:
   - Make Great First Impressions
   - Show Care and Concern
   - Respect the Dignity and Confidentiality of Others
   - Communicate Effectively
   - Own The Problem...Go The Extra Mile
   - Initiate Quality Improvements
   - Organizational Pride

Supervisors or members of leadership who violate this policy, or fail without good reason to report and/or correct violations by others of which they become aware, may also be subject to disciplinary action.

5. Individuals who feel that they are subject to this kind of disrespectful conduct should first consider telling the offending party that they object to that conduct. If the individual is not comfortable confronting the offending party or if the offending party, after being confronted, is unmoved, the following procedures shall be utilized:

a. Any person who believes he/she has been subjected to disrespectful conduct as described in this policy should report the incident in a timely manner, either orally or in writing.
